

Fisher Signs Additional Proclamations

Signing a proclamation recently, Greencastle Mayor Raymond Fisher, marked today as the beginning of "Operation Belong" -- a period of active support for the National Guard including Greencastle's Company A (SUP & SVC) 38th Supply and Transport Battalion -- by residents of the city.

The mayor's proclamation read:

Whereas, the Secretary of Defense has recently issued an official statement that the National Guard will be the initial and primary source for augmentation of the active armed forces in any further emergency requiring rapid and substantial expansion of the armed forces, and whereas, the secondary mission of the National Guard is a state mission that includes helping local communities, and

Whereas, the Governor of Indiana has pledged the Indiana National Guard shall stand ready to assist our community in time of need and emergency, and whereas, it is therefore essential the Greencastle's own Company A, (SUP & SVC) (-) 38th Supply and Transport Battalion, Indiana National Guard stay strong and ready to assist our nation in preserving peace and to aid our community where needed, and

Whereas, the retention of trained National Guardsmen and enlistment of new Guardsmen into Company A, is essential if this necessary high state of readiness is to be maintained, now, therefore, I Raymond S. Fisher,

Senior Citizens Proclamation

With his action yesterday, Mayor Fisher also signed a proclamation marking May as Senior Citizens Month in the city. The mayor's action comes following action by President Richard Nixon and Governor Otis Bowen, noting May as national and state Senior Citizens Month.

Mayor Fisher's Senior Citizens Month proclamation is as follows:

Whereas, today more than 20 million Americans have six and a half decades or more of life behind them, and rich years of promise still before them. This distinguished generation grew up with the twentieth century, and they came to the fullness of their maturity at the same time America did. They have stood in the forefront of this country's rise to unprecedented national well-being and to the world leadership role which is ours today, and whereas, our older citizens have given their best to America. Now they deserve the best from America, and

Whereas, Senior Citizens Month each year is a time for all our people to renew the recognition, the respect, and the active concern which properly belong to older Americans, and whereas, the theme of this year's observance is "Older Americans in Action." It points our

Hunter Gets Division Chair

R.E. (Dick) Andis, United Fund campaign chairman, announced today that Emmett W. Hunter has accepted the chairmanship of the Commercial Division of the United Fund campaign this fall. This division was formerly called the Business Division. Hunter was co-chairman of the division last year.

Andis commented, "Em has a tremendous challenge ahead of him in that his division in the largest in terms of the number of businesses and individuals that must be contacted. We feel that if we can impart the United Fund story to all of these people we will have a very successful campaign in the Commercial Division this year.

"One of the most powerful boosts the business leaders of the community can provide is to make it possible for their employees to contribute at their place of work. This is especially important, since there will not be a general solicitation in the Greencastle area."

Prior to joining the Central National Bank in May 1971, Hunter was office manager and State sales representative of Trans America Financial Services. At Central National, he was appointed Director of Marketing in June 1972, and in February 1973 was assigned to Central Insurance Agency, Inc.

Graduating from Greencastle High School in 1958, Hunter attended Indiana University. He later graduated from the Indiana College of Mortuary Science.

A Jaycee, Kiwanian, and Elk, Hunter is a member of the Board of the Putnam County Red Cross and the State Board of the Indiana Cancer Society. He is treasurer

Re-finish Old Car

"The school bought this car for $20," James Anleitner, welding, machine and auto mechanics teacher at Greencastle High School said as he pointed to a recently re-finished car sitting in the auto shop area of the high school.

Anleitner noted that five students (four boys and one girl) in his auto mechanics class did the body and engine work on the old car which was rusted and un-operable.

"The students (Lynn York, sophomore; Dale Shillings, junior; Mark Davis, sophomore; Lewis Spiker, junior and Pat Brewster, sophomore) worked on the car for four months. They did all the mechanical work, body work and painting themselves," Anleitner noted as he looked at the shining blue car.

"We will keep the car here for school use. I would say it is in top condition now. It will be used in parades and other activities."

Tax Reminder

Putnam County Treasurer Jewel Blue today reminded taxpayers that midnight Thursday, May 10, is the deadline for paying Spring tax installments.

Any mail postmarked after Thursday midnight will be too late and a penalty will be attached.

The Library is participating in a nationwide program whose purpose is to increase the public's awareness of libraries and their services.

One-Car Accident Reported

A one-car accident on U.S. 36 was investigated by Deputy Sheriff Jim Adams at 3:40 p.m. Monday.

Adams reported that the mishap occurred two miles west of Bainbridge when Gene Pingleton, 17, Bainbridge, lost control of the 1967 Ford he was driving and the automobile hit a guy wire supporting a utility pole.

Pingleton was not injured but damage to the car was estimated at $250.

In other police news, James Ray Ash, 18, 912 Crown Street, was arrested by local officers at 12:18 this morning.

Ash was stopped on Ind. 240 for driving while his license was suspended.

In other State Police action, there were two persons injured in a car-truck accident at about noon on a county road 1.3 miles north of Bainbridge.

Arnold Penrose, 64, Bainbridge, driver of a 1972 Chevrolet truck suffered cuts to his knee and elbow.

Roscoe Hillis, 80, Bainbridge, driver of a 1970 Pontiac, suffered cuts and a possible concussion. He was taken to the Roachdale clinic by a neighbor.

Hillis was southbound on the county road when he went left of center while preparing to make a left turn. He struck the Penrose truck head on.

Trooper Gary Hood investigated the mishap.

Trooper Gary Hood investigated another accident, this one involving a truck and two cars, on State Road 231 near Fincastle at about 2 p.m.

Ethmer Kiger, 65, Route 1, Roachdale, had stopped his 1963 Ford truck waiting to make a left turn. Duane Kiger, 36, also of Route 1, Roachdale, had stopped his 1973 Chevy behind the truck, also waiting for traffic to clear.

Another car, driven by Lena Curran, 62, Roachdale, was unable to stop in time, striking the car driven by Kiger, pushing it into the

Bottle Drive Slated

Greencastle High School's varsity baseball team members will be conducting a bottle drive tomorrow, Roger Newnum, head coach of the team, said yesterday.

Newnum noted that the drive will be conducted in the city to raise money for the team's up-coming trip to play the Portage and Hobart teams May 18 and 19. "The money will be used to pay for the boy's food and lodging," the coach noted.

"The boys (there are 19 on the team) will be canvassing the town to collect any returnable bottles. We hope that people who wish to contribute will place their bottles on their porches. Any donations will be appreciated," Newnum said.

lin. The "Operation Belong" is designed for continuing the support of the city for the National Guard.

Rev. Alley At Board Meet

"I've been counseling marital problems, family problems and individual problems," Rev. Edward Alley said last night about his work at the Putnam County Counseling service.

The counselor discussed his work with members of the service's board of directors at their meeting.

Rev. Alley has been the counselor at the local facility since it opened January 22.

Discussing cases that he has had involving marriage, the counselor said that he talks with the couples to help them come to a decision on whether they want to keep the marriage or seek a divorce.

"People have been referred to me from the court (Putnam County Circuit Court) and attorney on the marriage matters," Rev. Alley noted.

The counselor added that he has a full work load for the six hours that he is at the local facility and said that at the beginning of sessions with the counselees, he and the person being counseled decide on how many times they will meet. The counselor said that he will set a limit of from eight to 10 sessions with a client and then at the end of those eight or 10 meetings, he will meet with the counselee to evaluate progress made and determine if the session should continue or be terminated.

"I feel the response from the community for the service has been real good." Discussing his work with his clients, the counselor noted that he has "one person who is making real good progress."

Rev. Alley is at the local facility, the First Christian Church in Greencastle, on Mondays from 1 until 7 p.m. The counselor works with clients by appointment only--appointments can be made by calling the Indiana Pastoral Care and Counseling Service, Indianapolis, the parent organization. That number is 924-2612.

During the meeting, concern was expressed by the board that many persons of the county might be confused over the distinction between the counseling service and the proposed mental health out-patient clinic for the county. It was mentioned that perhaps residents might think that one is in competition with the other--or overlapping each others services.

It has been pointed-out that the counseling service is staffed by one counselor with a master's degree in counseling and that he, Rev. Alley, deals with cases such as individual, family and marital problems. Cases beyond his training must be referred to other agencies.

The counseling service is supported by private funds and is open to residents of the county. The proposed outpatient psychiatric clinic is to be staffed by at least three mental health professionals who will treat mental health problems of a more serious nature but will include minor psychological disorders. The clinic is to be supported mainly by public funds and is to serve Putnam as well as Hendricks County.

Also during the session, Rev. Elgin Smith, president of the local board was chosen as the service's representative to the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Indiana counseling center in Indianapolis.

Discussing funding of the service, it was mentioned that $500 has been paid to the Indiana center as a down payment on the $700 the local service must pay quarterly to keep the county facility open.

However, during the meeting it was pointed out that $140.26 of the additional $200 has been raised for the second quarter payment.

But discussion centered

'Gallant Hand' Report Told

With "Gallant Hand" 73 in the past tense, 119 members of the 181st Tactical Fighter Group, Indiana Air National Guard, returned to Hulman Field late Sunday and Monday with the "spoils of war."

Members of the 181st Tactical Fighter Group, Indiana Air National Guard, from Greencastle who participated in the Gallant Hand 73 joint Air Force-Army exercise were MSgt. William H. Hurst and TSgt. Gerald R. Scobee.

Nearly two weeks ago the 181st TFG contingent (26 officers, 62 airmen, and 31 air technicians) had departed, bound for Bergstrom AFB, Tex., and a joint, Air Force-Army mock war entitled Gallant Hand. The 181st's Guardsmen were to be among 30,000 troops participating.

The 181st TFG and its operations were virtually uprooted and transported more than 1,000 miles from home. There, the Guardsmen and their machines were challenged, observed, evaluated and made an even more responsible part of the whole -- if only for a short time.

The result? Well, from bottom to top, from flight crew to pilot, and from aircraft to airman, the result was nothing short of a Texas-sized success for the 181st TFG.

"We feel that Gallant Hand was beneficial," appraised Lt. Col. Frank L. Hettlinger, commander of the 181st and base detachment commander at Hulman Field.

"It gave us our first opportunity to employ our total knowledge of the combat environment," Col. Hettlinger continued. "We had a chance to put together what we are able to practice in pieces at the highway department.

Net balance of the bid was $38,995. The company stipulated that the bid be accepted within one day following the opening of the bid or the trade-in allowance would be lowered to $1,500.

Bid entered by KMI for the dirt loader totaled $26,165. Delivery was guaranteed within 90 days in the bid. However, a representative of the company present at the meeting stated after the bid was accepted that delivery could be with-in the month.

John Crooks of the engineering firm Longest, Beam and Neff of Indianapolis attended the meeting to report on the building of a stretch of road north of Bainbridge. He recommended that the area be surveyed again before construction is begun. Crooks also estimated that the cost of surveying the area would amount to about eight percent of the total construction cost, estimated at $140,000.

After discussing this project with Crooks the commissioners mentioned the possibility of later requesting more funds from the county council for road building.

appeared at the Monday meeting on behalf of the Putnam County Mental Health Association. She requested revenue sharing funds for the establishment of an outpatient mental health clinic for Putnam County.

She justified her request in stating, "A survey made by the ministerial association showed at least 1,300 people are in need of mental health care."

She went on to state that the county mental health group realized that, based on assessed valuation, Putnam County alone could not support such a facility privately. Therefore, she announced the cooperation of Hendricks County in sharing the out-patient service. Mrs. Rector presented Commissioner President Gene Beck and County Auditor John Carson with information concerning the type of facility and an estimate of its cost for their review. No action was taken on the request.

The commissioners voted to approach the county council on a request made by the Department of Soil Conservation for an appropriation of $4,000.

The funds are needed to conduct a soil survey to determine the value of soil in the Putnam County area.

home -- weapons and munitions characteristics, communications systems, intelligence network, and so on.

"I think that we demonstrated that we can work as, at the very least, 'equals' under regular Air Force terms."

Concluding, Col. Hettlinger said, "The attitudes and performances of our personnel, under the taxing work loads of Gallant Hand, were absolutely outstanding -- far better than I ever dreamed. We were challenged, and we enjoy a challenge."

During the excellent training opportunity of Gallant Hand, the 181st fighters made simulated air strikes and worked with air space and altitudes that are never afforded at Hulman Field. Limited to a 17,000-foot ceiling here, the 181st took its F-100 Super Sabres to 28,000 feet and above during the Texas exercise.

With increased time, the exercise afforded the "week-end" pilots an opportunity to truly concentrate on flying. And, considering the concentrated flying, but looking beyond the pilots, Gallant Hand was an extraordinary opportunity for "weekenders" of the flight line to handle increased responsibility while working under conditions which might be encountered in war.

Undoubtedly, the process of working side-by-side with Air Force "regulars" played an important role in Gallant Hand 73. As Chief Master Sergeant James A. Caldwell of Terre Haute, 181st maintenance superintendent, summarized, "We learned some things."

Everyone is asked to bring their own table service and a covered dish for the pitch-in dinner. Those attending are also asked to bring any material they might like to donate for hospital lab robes, inner linings and linings, as well as material scraps for piecing.

The Barracks 1994 will continue to meet for a carry-in dinner at the Legion Home in Cloverdale. All World War I Veterans are invited to attend on the first Wednesday of each month.

Kappa Beta Chapter Honors Mothers, Installs Officers

The annual Mothers' Day celebration of Kappa Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held in the cafeteria of the Roachdale Elementary School. A salad luncheon was served in the cafeteria which was decorated according to a spring theme. Centerpieces consisted of potted plants which were later given to each guest.

Following the luncheon, officers for the 1973-74 year were installed during a candlelight ceremony.

Beth Ann Curran was installed as president and Janet Mandelco was installed as vice president. Sara Knowling became the secretary of the organization and Sandy Spencer became treasurer. Marj Tiffin was installed as extension officer.

The next meeting will be held on May 15. All cultural lessons which have not yet been given must be given at this time.

Delta Theta Tau Donation Buys 100 Books For Library

The Roachdale Chapter of Delta Theta Tau Sorority met at the home of Marcia Clones on May 1.

The chapter decided to bake cookies to be taken to a nearby nursing home at their next meeting.

"Thank you" notes from the Special Olympics and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miller were read.

Mrs. Barbara Craft reported that the library will allow the sorority to store their hospital equipment in the basement of the building.

Over 100 books were purchased by the elementary school library from the sorority's donation.

Officers for the year were elected and are as follows:

Joyce Rust, president; Susan Crosby, vice president; Evelyn Faller, treasurer; Barbara Craft, recording secretary; Wally Jeffries, corresponding secretary; Mary Lou Clones, sergeant-at-arms; and Amy Clones, historian.

The next meeting will be held on May 15 in the home of Kay Clark.

NOTICE

Wedding articles and pictures submitted more than two (2) weeks after the ceremony will no longer be considered for publication.

Wedding forms are available free of charge for your convenience at the Banner-Graphic office. It is suggested that wedding forms be picked up before the wedding in order to allot the proper amount of time required for the completion and return of this form before the two (2) week deadline.

Pictures submitted should be black and white photos with sharp, clear details. Color photos are NOT adaptable for newspaper use.

If a picture of the bride alone is to be used, it is preferable that the picture be submitted a few days before the ceremony so that there will be time to do necessary processing in order to publish the picture and story a day or so after the ceremony.

Kappa Delta Phi Sorority Entertains Senior Citizens

Kappa Delta Phi sorority entertained with a social party for several Senior Citizens in the community, Sunday at the Sherwood Christian Church.

The program began with a "Welcome Song" dance routine by Tammy Kauble and Mark Kays. A local quartet of high school boys sang several songs and a soloist, Susan Robertson, sang some of her favorite songs to the group.

In closing the program, Miss Kauble tap danced to "Meet Me in St. Louis," and then the Senior Citizens were led in singing some of their favorite songs.

Refreshments were served following the song fest and a special gift was given to each of them to take home.

The Sorority wishes to thank everyone who helped make this social a success. A very special thanks goes out to Sunset Manor and Eventide Nursing Homes, their assistants, and to Burger Chef for their cooperation.

This is a yearly event for the Sorority and appreciated by all of the Senior Citizens.

Hire gardener to clean up neighbors' yard?

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: We have had our house up for sale for months (because of a transfer). It is in a most desirable neighborhood and is unusually beautiful, with lovely lawns and gardens.

Our broker has told us that it would have been sold long ago except for the neighbors who share our driveway. Their yard is in dreadful condition! The conclusion of the prospective buyers is that hippies must live there. This is far from the truth as they are wonderful people and good friends and neighbors in every other respect.

I would gladly hire my gardener to clean up their yard—but of course I don't want to humiliate them—so we remain unsold and we may have to reduce our price to the level where other careless people can afford it. In that case we would be doing a disservice to our other good neighbors as well as hurting our own financial position.

So, Abby, be a good girl and pass on a hint that no doubt would be appreciated by property sellers all over the U. S. A.

STYMIED IN SALEM

DEAR STYMIED: You must be kidding! Why don't you tell these "wonderful people," whom you call your "good friends," to clean up their yard not only for themselves but for you? And if you would "gladly" hire your gardener to clean up their yard but fear "humiliating" them, go ahead and hire him. Those neighbors need to be humiliated.

DEAR ABBY: After 18 months, I'm still hopelessly in love with my ex-wife. Are there statistics available regarding the incidence of second marriages to the same partner? Do they work better than the first-timers?

Not knowing where she and our two children are complicates matters. Reading this may move her to contact me if she has experienced the same doubts and loneliness that I have felt since the day we parted.

HEARTBROKEN IN DINUBA, CAL.

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Forget the statistics and get down to cases. If she's keeping her whereabouts a secret from you, that's probably the way she wants it, in which case I suggest you forget it. If that's not the case, ask her lawyer to get in touch with her and try to negotiate a reconciliation.

DEAR ABBY: I have a tender face and my husband has a rough beard. It was no problem getting him to shave before going to bed. On our honeymoon I said: "Old men shave in the morning, and young men shave at night."

We've been married for 27 years, and he still shaves at night.

CUDDLED AT NIGHT IN VA.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FAITHFUL FAN" IN SILVER SPRINGS, MD.: The "gem" to which you refer was not original. It was written by Lord Brain, a famous British obstetrician. The verbatim quote is: "When, wherever you live in the world, you can have children only when you wish, that will be a revolution with more far-reaching effects on the pattern of human culture than the discovery of atomic energy."

Greencastle Offset

It's the electricity you don't use that costs the most to make.

On the hottest days of summer, air conditioners call for enormous amounts of power and put all our generators to work. These are the "peak demand" days we must be able to meet. When cool weather comes and demand for power drops, some of our equipment is idle. But interest payments on the money to build this equipment go right on.

And that's a problem. For us and our customers. Because the only place that money can come from is in the rate you pay for electricity.

The solution? Increase the use of electricity in winter to put idle equipment to work and make it earn its keep. One of the best "off peak" uses is electric heat. That's why we continue to advertise and promote it.

Encouraging "off peak" use of electric energy helps keep electric service a bargain for everybody.

Three More Franchises Are Being Considered

WHA Awards Franchise To Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio AP - World Hockey Association officials Monday awarded a franchise to Cincinnati and indicated three more franchises are pending.

WHA President Gary L. Davidson, who departed for the West Coast immediately after the franchise announcement, said two of the cities under consideration were Miami, Fla. and Vancouver, B.C.

He said the WHA was "delighted" to come to Cincinnati because of the city's past support of "big league teams."

Steve Arnold, WHA personnel director, said the Cincinnati franchise will begin operation in 1974-75.

Brian Heekin, president of the Cincinnati Hockey Club

Inc., said his group decided to accept the WHA offer six weeks ago after the National Hockey League confirmed a franchise for Kansas City.

"That was the turning point," said Heekin, CHC said the NHL board of governors had promised it a future franchise.

In Montreal, the NHL said

Cincinnati had never been promised a franchise. The NHL said it had promised to keep them under consideration, an official said.

CHC meanwhile, is working out details with Cincinnati city officials to build a $20 million, 17,500-seat arena adjacent to Riverfront Stadium. Heekin said completion date must be in October, 1974.

He reopened negotiations recently when the city reacted to his plan to build an arena 28-miles north of here at Kings Island Amusement Park.

Heekin said "we are now looking for people to set up the franchise and build the team." They will draft 13th in the May 19 junior player draft.

Heekin said the younger players will be sent to other WHA minor league teams until the franchise is ready here. He said he had no plans to draft players from the NHL. Rules will allow Cincinnati to draft 20 players from other WHA clubs for the opening season.

Heekin had "no idea at this time," what CHC will do with major league players signed before 1974. He said he did not think they would be assigned to minor league clubs.

Meanwhile, the Buffalo Sabres of the NHL said they plan to continue operating their American Hockey League franchise — the Cincinnati Swords here. They play in the 14,000-seat Cincinnati Gardens.

The Swords are in the playoffs with Nova Scotia for the Calder Cup championship.

A Sabres spokesman said no problems or conflicts are foreseen since the NHL and WHA are separate. Had Cincinnati been awarded an NHL franchise, the Swords were to be withdrawn but for compensation, the Sabres said earlier.

Price of the WHA franchise was $2 million, Heekin said. The proposed NHL franchise would have been $6 million.

In Indianapolis, John Weisert, general manager of the Pacers of the American Basketball Association, indicated surprise at the Cincinnati WHA franchise.

He had said last week that his group was vying with Cincinnati for an NHL franchise.

"From a National Hockey League point of view it obviously moves us up a notch," Weis-ert said, "it just eliminates one competitor."

"On the other hand, I think it causes Indianapolis to reassess its present situation in terms of hockey... with a keen eye toward an Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Chicago rivalry in the WHA."

"That makes an awful lot of sense. We've benefited so much from an Indiana-Kentucky rivalry in basketball that if Indianapolis was in the WHA I could see that same type of rivalry between Cincinnati and Cleveland."

"I don't mean that we're going to take a cue from what Cincinnati did. But I think they — the Cincinnati group — made their decision on reasons they thought were very valid, and quite possibly the same reasons would hold true for our market."

A new Indianapolis hockey-basketball arena is under construction and is scheduled for completion next March.

The Cincinnati group meanwhile, confirmed that negotiations had been held with owners of the Kentucky Colonels ABA team to play some games in Cincinnati.

Cougars Drop Two To Wells

Granville Wells slipped past North Putnam's baseball team 3-2 in the opening game and then exploded for ten runs in the second game to sweep a doubleheader from the Cougars last Saturday afternoon.

Saldana Takes 7th Place With Hulman Victory

TERRE HAUTE Ind. (AP) — Joe Saldana of Lincoln, Neb., has jumped to seventh in the U.S. Auto Club Sprint Car Division point standings with a victory in the third-annual Tony Hulman Classic here.

Saldana led the 40-lap race on the half-mile dirt track from beginning to end Saturday, holding off a late charge by Rollie Beale of Toledo, Ohio.

The 28-year-old Saldana had almost no difficulty during the nationally televised race despite a soggy, bumpy track which was almost a quagmire after a brief pre-race shower.

Beale never did catch up, although he gave it a valiant try, particularly in the final five laps when he had smoke streaming from his car. Beale finished two seconds back.

sent Bob Neal of Granville Wells across the plate for what turned out to be the decisive run of the contest. North Putnam tried to come back in the bottom of the sixth inning but could only produce two runs.

The winning pitcher for Wells in the opener was L. Jones while the loser for the Cougars was Draper.

The Rockets took early control of the second game as they scored three runs in the third and fourth innings and added two more in the fifth to take a 9-1 lead over the Cougars. Wells' final score of the game came in the seventh inning while North Putnam's only runs of the afternoon came in the first and seventh innings. During the second game, the Cougars left twelve men on base.

Pacer Coach Bob Leonard Attacks ABA Officials

Indiana Coach Bobby Leonard, ejected from the fourth game of the American Basketball Association playoff between the Pacers and Kentucky, says he's "through holding back" complaints about officials. "All I ever asked from the officials was a fair shake," Leonard fumed in the Pacer dressing room during the second half of Saturday's game, which Indiana won 90-86 to even the best-of-seven series at 2-2.

Cougars was Tim Tillotson while M. Hoskins was the winner for Granville Wells.

North Putnam's ball club is now 2-4 for the season. The Cougars will see action again this Thursday against West Central Conference rival Avon. The make-up game will be played at North Putnam and is scheduled to begin at 4:30.

Purdue Favored To Win State Track Meet

MUNCIE-Olympic sprinter Larry Burton will lead defending champion Purdue into today's Indiana Intercollegiate State Track and Field Meet at Ball State, while Tom McMannon of Notre Dame and Kevin Vana of Indiana State seek their third consecutive individual titles.

The Boilermakers outdistanced the field a year ago behind Burton, the meet's only double winner, for the school's first crown.

Burton, the defending NCAA champion at 200 meters, equalled the state meet's 100-yard dash record of :09.4 last year before shattering the 220 standard in :20.3. The Melfa, Va., junior, who barely missed winning a medal in the Olympics last September, also anchored Purdue's victorious 440-yard relay team.

Meanwhile, McMannon and Vana will defend individual titles they have won for the past two years.

McMannon, 1971 NCAA indoor high hurdles champion, has been a two-year winner in the 120-yard high hurdles, setting a :13.5 record in 1971. He was a double winner two years ago when also captured the intermediate sticks.

Vana has finished first in the 440 the last two seasons while also anchoring the Sycamores' mile relay team to victory both times.

In team competition, Indiana is expected to be a serious threat for the championship. The Hoosiers finished fourth in 1972 when several of their top trackmen didn't enter the meet, but they will field a full team among this year's 15 competing schools.

Host Ball State, last year's runnerup, should be among the team leaders along with Notre Dame and Indiana State. Other colleges and universities among the field include Butler, DePauw, Franklin, Indiana Central, Manchester, Marion, Rose-Hulman, Valparaiso, Vincennes and Wabash.

In addition to Burton, Purdue also returns miler Galen Hacker, long jumper Jeff Bolin and pole vaulter Ben Cogswell who were all winners last spring.

Notre Dame half-miler Mike Gahagan will likewise defend his title, while Ball State has retained 1972 champions Bob Neely in the javelin and Bill Gavaghan in the three-mile run.

Although Indiana claimed no victors last year, the Hoosiers do have one of the meet record holders. High jumper Dennis Adams, who passed last year's meet, owns the record in that event at six feet, 11 inches from the 1971 affair.

Another record-setter is Ball State's Steve Wynder, who established a three mile standard of 13:54.7 two years ago before slipping to second last season behind teammate Bill Gavaghan.

The meet, which has an 18-event card, will begin at 2:30 p.m. with the field events at rubberized University Track.

County Independent Agents Co-Sponsor Golf Tourney

Putnam County Independent Insurance Agents Association is a co-sponsor of the 1973 Insurance Youth Classic golf tournament to be held August 11 through 14 at the Westfield Country Club, Westfield Center, Ohio, according to Keith Gossard, President.

Approximately 150 youths under 18 years of age, representing the top winners of tournaments in their respective states, will begin by playing a 36-hole qualifying round.

The 60 survivors of the qualifying round will play in the national finals, also 36-holes. Each of the 20 professional golfers playing in the tourney will play in a foursome with three of the young athletes.

The professionals will be vying, on their own and unencumbered by the amateurs' scores, for a total of $50,000 in prize money. The amateur winners receive trophies for the three lowest scores and the three lowest scoring three-man teams among the amateurs.

"This unique sporting event affords us a special opportunity to demonstrate our interest in the youth of the country," President Gossard said. "Golf not only fosters good sportsmanship and healthy competition, but helps young people develop their mental alertness and physical potential."

In addition to Local Big "I" Agents, the Insurance Youth Classic is jointly sponsored by the National Association of Insurance Youth and several property and casualty companies. Ernest Collins is the Putnam County Chairman.

The bidding:

North East South West
1♦ 1♠ 2♣
2♦ Pass 3NT

Opening lead - two of spades.

Let's say you're in three notrump and win the spade lead with the ace. There is a question of how to play the hand, one possibility being to cash the ace of clubs, enter dummy with a diamond, and try a club finesse.

The danger is that the finesse may fail, in which case you would automatically go down after a spade continuation. You would lose three spades, a club and a heart.

Another possibility is to lead a low heart to the queen at trick two. This would lose to East's ace, as expected, and back would come a spade. You would now be able to make the contract if the opponents' hearts were divided 3-3 or if the club finesse succeeded. But, in the actual case, both chances would fail and this time you would finish down two.

However, there is still another way of playing the hand and this, considering the bidding, is the proper plan to adopt. It is based on the virtual certainty that East, for his overall, has the ace of hearts, and once this is conceded the contract is absolutely unstopable. At trick two you enter dummy with a diamond and lead a low heart back. This play presents East with a tantalizing dilemma. If he goes up with the ace, you have nine tricks without a finesse - three hearts, two spades, two diamonds and two clubs.

If he doesn't go up, you win with the jack and speedily abandon the suit, shifting to the A-K and another club. This also produces nine tricks, namely, four clubs, two spades, a heart and two diamonds.

All roads lead to Rome.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Opal's questions would make ideal debate topics for high schoolers: We need delegates to Congress who are not merely charismatic footers, but lacking in "horse sense" and the rugged experience of having earned their own money. We don't need playboys in Congress!

CASE X-502: Opal W., aged 28, teaches Civics in high school.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "we used your textbook when I was a student at the university."

"And I was doubly interested in your chapter entitled Psychology Goes to the Polls," for my goal was to teach Civics.

"Now I have some questions that my own pupils have raised."

"You may recall that Senator Percy last fall sided with Senator Bayh in urging another Amendment to our U.S. Constitution."

"They claim that since the voting age has been lowered to 18, then we should also reduce by 3 years the minimum ages for U.S. Representatives and U.S. Senators."

"Instead of the present minimum of 25 and 30, respectively, they want young people to be allowed to serve in the House when they are 22 and in the U.S. Senate when 27."

"For they cite Dr. Margaret Mead as authority for the claim that Americans now mature 3 years earlier than was true 50 years ago."

"Is that really true, Dr. Crane?"

"Or are Senators Percy and Bayh just trying to start building up an appeal of young supporters in their wish to run for the presidency in 1976?"

PROPAGANDA STRATEGY

Perhaps you readers can quickly answer Opal's second question.

For "Potomac Fever" afflicts many members of Congress, so they start their propaganda many years in advance.

My psychological diagnosis is a blunt "Yes" to Opal's 2nd query.

But we must distinguish between physical growth vs. self-reliance and business judgment.

True enough, our young people now are taller and heavier than their ancestors of 50 years ago.

But we taxpayers should not stress mere anatomy when we elect members of Congress.

"Charisma" is now a popular term to describe Teddy Kennedy and other handsome young fellows who may exceed 6 feet in height and weigh 180 pounds.

But height and weight don't correlate with shrewd understanding of tax problems or the many worries of housewives, farmers and small retail merchants who are first translated the famous Binet Intelligence Scale into English.

Way back in 1918, his estimate put the outright feeble-minded at 4 million in this country, and that was 55 years ago.

Meanwhile, they have been breeding like rabbits, supported on welfare by you hard working taxpayers.

And they mate, often incestuously, at 14 or 15, and produce 5 children per couple, while the good stock of America don't average 2 children per family!

At present, after 3 mating generations of the feeble-minded and borderline cases, we have at least 30 million subnormals.

Alas, after 12 years of grammar and high school even the normal teen-agers can't read or use arithmetic as well as the 8th graders of 50 years ago.

This is due to the new math, frilly courses and "ear-mind" stress by TV.

Nor are young adults as resourceful and self-reliant, for a far larger percentage now live on papa's "allowance" checks!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

High Court Denies Hearing To Birdseye Reopening Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has denied a hearing to members of a Protestant community in rural Indiana who claimed a school consolidation is forcing their children to undergo indoctrination in the Roman Catholic faith.

The high court rejected the appeal of a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court at Chicago that refused to reopen the high school in Protestant Birdseye, Ind.

In 1971, the school district closed the 71-year-old high school at Birdseye and transferred its 104 students to nearby Ferdinand where the district had leased a high school formerly operated by the Catholic

The Birdseye citizens brought suit to force the reopening of their high school, alleging that the atmosphere of the school in Ferdinand was dominated by Catholic theology and marked by "religious discrimination and hostility."

The school district countered that the school at Ferdinand was operated as any other public school.

It said no religious artifacts remained at the school, Catholic periodicals in the library were being "phased out," and nuns teaching at the school no longer wore religious garb and were governed by state regulations, not those of the Catholic diocese.

"The superintendent of school has taken whatever action is appropriate to eliminate any 'religious influence' in the school system," said the district, adding that inconvenience prompted by the closing of a neighborhood school might have played a part in the complaint centered on religion.

Florida White House Declares Nixon Not In Watergate Cover-Up

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP)—The Florida White House, on President Nixon's behalf, issued a sweeping denial of any presidential involvement in the Watergate scandal or a subsequent cover-up.

Said Warren: "Any suggestion that the President was aware of the Watergate operation is untrue. Any suggestion that the President participated in any cover-up activities is untrue. Any suggestion that the President ever authorized the offering of demerol to anyone in this case is also false."

In response to questions, Warren said the statement was issued with Nixon's knowledge and approval.

Asked if the reference to "Watergate operations" extended to 1972 campaign espionage and sabotage, Warren said, "it extends to all the matters that are now under discussion."

Warren said the White House, except in this instance, would follow a practice of not commenting on individual news reports because of a "desire to make sure that White House comment or an inadvertent statement in the White House briefing room will not prejudice the prosecution or infringe on the rights of innocent individuals."

He added: "That is our position and will remain our position."

The statement was issued as Nixon was conferring on White House staff operations with Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., his new staff coordinator, and press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

Warren said Haig, appointed

Friday by Nixon following the resignation of H. R. Haldeman, flew here unannounced Sunday afternoon.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A $40 used camera and the last four frames on a roll of film produced for a young Crawfordsville high school student the top Indiana Associated Press photography award for 1972.

The winning entry was a sequence of four pictures following a jailbreak at Crawfordsville. The winner was Gregg Hess, 16-years old now, but 14 at the time the series was shot.

He is the son of Jack Hess, managing editor of the Crawfordsville Journal-Review.

"We have a police scanner (radio) at home and had picked up a coded message saying there had been a jailbreak," Gregg's father said today. "By the time we arrived at the jail, the escapee—a young female—had been recaptured."

"We could see the police cars pulling up in front of the jail. I let Gregg out of my car while I tried to find a parking place. As he was approaching the jail, the girl suddenly broke away from her captors and took off on about a city block chase. Gregg recorded it on film," Hess said.

"He's been interested in photography less than two years."

He took the sequence with a $40 camera which he purchased with money he earned mowing lawns. It was the last four frames he had in the camera—the last four exposures."

Hess said the newspaper has used many pictures taken by young Gregg, who works for the newspaper as an unsalaried photographer in exchange for use of the paper's darkroom facilities and supplies.

Hess said his son knew the series had been entered in the annual photo contest of the Indiana Associated Press Managing Editors association, but was not aware of winning when he attended the awards banquet Saturday night at the association's spring meeting in Valparaiso.

The series won first place in amateur sequence, selected by out-of-state judges. It was voted the best of the year by the Indiana editors polled for the annual Bushemi award, the sweepstakes award.

Hess said when Gregg returned to the table after accepting the award "some people had to explain to him that he had won the top award. He was sitting there in stunned silence for awhile."

"He developed the film himself and printed the pictures himself," Hess said. "He could have frozen, because the girl was running directly at him when he took the pictures. This all transpired in a matter of...like three seconds and it was all over with and yet he got four good frames out of it."

"As one of the editors said after the award, 'What's he going to do when he's 17.'"

Milligan Terms Watergate Inexcusable

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Indiana Republican State Chairman Thomas Milligan today called the Watergate case inexcusable, and said he felt personally the President was not involved.

"The Watergate case represents immoral, illegal and unethical conduct of the highest order" by persons involved in various acts on behalf of the Committee to Re-elect the President, he said at a news conference here.

He said the fact that "espionage" has been conducted by both parties in past campaigns and by both parties last year is no excuse for bugging offices, for wiretapping and going through safes and personal files.

Milligan said he did not feel there would be a need to bring in a special prosecutor in the case. "I know that in Bill Ruckelshaus we have an individual who is capable of developing the facts for the government as far as prosecution," Milligan said. Ruckelshaus, an Indiana native, was named recently as acting FBI director. "I think it is important that the prosecution move ahead as soon as possible with reasonable regard for the constitutional safeguards for the defendants involved."

Milligan said he also felt it important that the grand jury investigations keep pace with the congressional investigations by the Ervin committee.

"I think it should be tried in the courts as far as the individuals are concerned," he said. He said the congressional inquiry should look to providing future laws to prevent such an incident from happening, in the future.

"I personally feel the President was not involved and if he is implicated I would be very surprised if they can make those implications become fact," Milligan said.

He said he also questioned whether impeachment would be appropriate because "the office of the presidency and Richard Nixon's fulfilling of that office is so important to the stability of this country and the free world."

New Albany Business Up Sunday

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (AP)—Dining rooms in the motels of New Albany and Clark County showed an increase in business Sunday, the first under the new Indiana law permitting the sale of alcoholic beverages on the Sabbath.

The reports on increased patronage ranged from mild to "very successful" at the Marriott Inn and Holiday Inn at Clarksville and the Robert E. Lee Inn and Holiday Inn at New Albany.

Officials of the establishments had hand-carried their applications from southern Indiana to the state capital at Indianapolis last week to get them processed in time for the Kentucky Derby weekend at Louisville, Ky., just across the Ohio River.

The new state law providing for Sunday liquor sales went into effect May 1, but this was the first Sunday since the law became effective.

"Our business in the dining room nearly quadrupled," said John Carson, manager of the Marriott Inn.

"Everything went fine. There was absolutely no problem. The increase was evident both at noon and the night hour."

He indicated that some of the sharp increase might be attributed to the novelty of the thing, saying, "It may level off later on."

He said the new patronage indicated about two-thirds of it came from across the river, meaning Louisville.

Robert Stewart, managing director of the Robert E. Lee Inn, said, "We had a very nice increase." He said there were a great many calls that came in making inquiries about the new service, some on the new law, and on the serving hours at the hotel. Asked if there was a perceptible note of an increase of customers from Louisville, Stewart said there was, but added, "We had many new customers from Indiana communities who we feel would otherwise have gone to Louisville." Only beer is available for purchase in Louisville on Sundays.

M.J. Keenan, manager of the Holiday Inns at New Albany and Clarksville, spoke conservatively about the change.

"We had a very satisfactory day," he said. "We made no body count, but we'll just say it was satisfactory."
